

Contact Julianna Shapiro
Telephone 613.613.5044
Email media@chronicallyawesome.org
Website www.chronicallyawesome.org

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
January 6, 2016

MESOTHELIOMA CENTER POSTS FIRST PARTNER POST

Inaugural Chronically Awesome Partner Launches Program

Aliso Viejo, CA, January 6, 2016– The Mesothelioma Center (www.asbestos.com) posted their first blog as the inaugural Chronically Awesome Partner Organization. The topic of the first post, “Mesothelioma, What Is It?” by Cara T. explains what Mesothelioma is and what causes the deadly cancer.

“Chronically Awesome is delighted to launch this program. It has been a dream of mine to partner with organizations to educate our Chronically Awesome community about illnesses directly from organizations that represent them.” Commented Jules Shapiro, Founder of The Chronically Awesome Foundation

Each month, Cara will post to the featured partner blog, educating Chronically Awesome readers about Mesothelioma as well as bringing Mesothelioma patients to Chronically Awesome to learn more out the CA community.

The Chronically Awesome Foundation is a fiscally sponsored 501c3 whose mission it is to cultivate and support the Chronically Awesome Community through artistic programs including but not limited to blogging, photography, painting, and crafting; as well as to provide support programs both in a group or peer-to-peer settings. The Chronically Awesome Foundation strives to educate and raise awareness about the needs of the Chronically Awesome. We provide comfort to those in need and give back to The Chronically Awesome Community in creative and uplifting ways.

###

If you would like more information about this topic, or are interested in participating in our partner program, please contact Julianna Shapiro at 613.613.5044 or email at media@chronicallyawesome.org.